

From Don't to Do: Jessica Alba

After years of practice, the actress has nailed her pants look.

Jessica Alba lives in trousers these days, but she hasn't always looked so at home in them. (See her layered look, circa 2003, below.) Today the Honest Company mogul knows to mind proportions: She looks long and lean in high-waisted Max Mara trousers with a Katharine Hepburn-ish Alice + Olivia blouse and versatile camel platforms. Powerhouse!

Limited-Time Do: The Girl 'Stache

Women of Hollywood have been rocking faux facial hair. In honor of Movember,* we say Do!

Demi Lovato goofs off in the studio in a curly Captain Hook-style 'stache.

Hilary Duff wore one for its intended purpose: to raise awareness about men's health.

*Every November The Movember Foundation challenges guys to grow a mustache to raise awareness and money for prostate and testicular cancer. Want in? Skip a wax and donate the funds to us.movember.com.
